successfully creating, some of the most advanced products and solutions in the field of web & email hosting, anti-spam, and data security.

His passion for the works started off as a child when his extensive knowledge in computer sciences set him apart from the rest, prompting him that busy days aren’t far away. He schooled from Arya Vidya Mandir followed by a graduation in commerce from Narsee Monjee college of Commerce and Economics.

When he was fourteen, Divyank began freelance consultancy services for different businesses and two years later DirectI was founded.

OrderBox, an acclaimed finance and billing software was completely his brainchild which handles company operations.

Thereafter, it’s been an endless ordeal of projects and business tours to potential areas, the latest being Luxembourg where he sponsored an IT event. Amazingly, all of this follows from no business background, his father being a chartered accountant who runs his own practice and moth-

In his leisure time, Divyank desires anything but respite. He’s a techno geek, loves variegated outdoor adventure sports ranging from scuba diving to sky diving to aerobic flying. Divyank is into hobby flying at the Bombay Flying club as well.

Marriage, he claims, is not the first thing on his mind right now and we wouldn’t blame him, he has work to do! Like many other market bullets, Divyank advocates a strong bond between an individual and what he does for a living.

“There’s a lot of money out there, and a larger amount of talent in demand, life is short, so go get it!”
